GOSPEL REFLECTION

In today's Gospel we hear Jesus actually give some of His authority to the twelve apostles. They will have power to cast out demons and have the gift of healing. Who are they? Well, some were illiterate fishermen, one was a wealthy tax collector who worked for the hated Romans and one was a zealot, a nationalist who would normally be trying to kill the Romans. Finally, one who would betray Him. He sent them ahead of Him to prepare the way for His coming. He must have trusted them in spite who they were. Through my Baptism and Confirmation, the Lord is sending me out no matter how unworthy I may feel or how little I believe I have to offer. It is not for me to worry about how effective I may or may not be, I must simply put myself into His hands and trust Him. God Bless Fr Pat
